Really liked this class and got a lot more out of it than I expected. It was clear that Dr. Safner enjoyed the subject matter and cared about his students. The only thing I would change about this class is that I wish Dr. Safner would update grades on blackboard more often although I understand he's teaching several classes in between commuting to and from DC, which can be extremely difficult. All in all, this class was awesome and gave me a ton of insight on how the world works.

I liked Professor S a lot, I just cannot seem to enjoy economics.

We spent a lot of time on the first 4 chapters. Took over half the semester. the second test was rushed. the material for the final is a question mark. the last two weeks of class were super rushed. currently writing this a week before courses are officially over and i have no idea what is actually on the final because he teaches certain concepts and then skips over a bunch of slides that seem to have useful info on them saying that the info wont be on the final. confused as to what actually is on the final

Dr. Safner tried really hard to make the class enjoyable. For the most part it was, but sometimes I felt that we were repeating material and taking a lot longer than we should have on certain subjects, which made some classes extremely boring.

Thank you, Prof. Safner I enjoyed your class. I learned lots of things about the Economy.

It was a really great course and helped me to understand a lot of every day concepts Huge thank you for Professor Safner!!

Loved this class!

Understandably, this course was mostly lecture. It would help if more time was dedicated to a more hands-on approaching, especially with problems such as graphing where the numbers and variables can be changed for a test.
